New Member Orientation

Please note this orientation will be recorded in its entirety.

Welcome!

NYCETC
Member

Council Member Amanda Farías speaks at NYCETC's #RecoveryForAll Rally at City Hall, 2022

Introductions & Icebreaker

Using the chat, introduce yourself & participate in our icebreaker question:

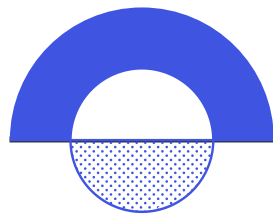

What was your first job? What did you like about it? What did you learn from it?

If you have questions throughout the discussion, please put them in the chat.

Our Story

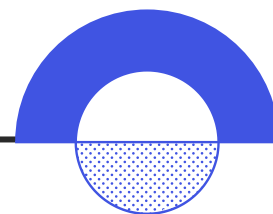

A timeline of NYCETC's history

Founded 1997

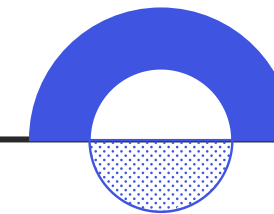

NYCETC was founded by providers to break down silos and create a community for the workforce development field.

The Coalition is the only organization of its kind in NYC, and is one of only a handful of similar organizations nationally.

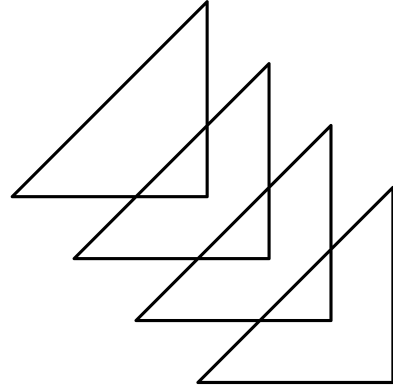

Primarily staffed by volunteers, full-time staff was hired in 2001.

The Coalition is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization and a partner project of the Fund for the City of New York.

Today

Growing to over 200 member organizations, members include CBOs, educational institutions, settlement houses, libraries, and labor management organizations that provide job training and employment services to over 600,000 New Yorkers.

Our Mission & Values

- NYCETC works to ensure that every New Yorker – especially those who have been historically marginalized and disenfranchised and cut off from workforce opportunities – has access to the skills, training, and education needed to thrive in the local economy, and that every business is able to maintain a highly skilled workforce.
- Ensure talent gains the skills to access quality jobs that include a living wage and basic benefits, career building opportunities, stable and predictable scheduling, and safety and security.
- Build strong ties with the business community, city and state government, and philanthropy to invest in employment pathways that grow a diverse & expanded workforce in the 'new' New York City economy.
